During the Sixth annual ASPO conference in Cork, Ireland in 2007, Nate Hagens and I were interviewed for the event's DVD. The 5 disc DVD box set (available here) contains all the conference material and a number of interviews including ours.

Below the fold you can watch our interviews. As ever your insightful comments on the content are welcomed but we are also interested in your thoughts on video as a communication medium and what future video could have on The Oil Drum. Also see the video Luís de Sousa made last month: Olduvai 2008 movie.

Nate Hagens

Nate answers questions on people's acceptance of peak oil, its seriousness, EROEI, the credibility of biofuels and the role of the market.

Chris Vernon

Chris answers questions on the impact of peak oil for poorer countries, the affect on UK, the contribution of biofuels and the relationship between peak oil and climate change.
